No Spam

QuWave has a zero tolerance policy for spam. Spam is defined as any unsolicited email whether commercial or non-commercial in nature. Spam includes, but is not limited to, the sending of ANY unsolicited information to a person or group that has not specifically asked to receive that particular information or is not a personal acquaintance of the individual sending the information. All Affiliates are expected to adhere to QuWave's no spam policy. Affiliates may promote QuWave to "opt-in" lists ONLY. If you run a newsletter, ezine, or other kind of bulk email service, you must have evidence that people signed up to receive email from you. Any and all spam complaints will be investigated thoroughly. If you spam, we WILL terminate your contract.

Part of the no spam policy means, you may NOT:

a. Send any email to any type of mailing list or opt-in list that has been purchased or acquired from an outside individual or party.
b. Send any email to any type of manually or automatically harvested list of email addresses, names, or contacts.
c. Send any email to any type of "lead" or "prospect" before you have received a request for more information.
d. Fax any message to any recipient that has not requested the information first.
e. Send inappropriate postings to any newsgroup or forum that violates their anti-spam regulations.

Any Affiliate that engages spam or in promoting prohibited products or services in connection with their site in any way shall have their affiliate contract terminated and could lose any or all affiliate commissions due to them. The site owner also shall be held liable for any and all damages and/or losses that may result as a consequence.
